

March 2025

A Special Note from The President:

Dear Fellow Members,

We are now welcoming in spring and our weather has been great. Now that we are coming into March we will have a few activities. This month we celebrate St Patrick's Day. Cecil Strahan will be entering his roadster car in the parade in Henderson and he'll will have it decorated with our German Colors and representing the club. We are asking for volunteers to were their German outfits to march with Cecil in the parade. After the parade please come down to the club and join us for an Irish buffet as we celebrate St Patrick's Day! On the 22nd of March we will be having a chili cook off so those of you members who believe you have the best receipt please come and join us and win some prizes. Please contact the club to enter.

I would like to thank all the cooks and volunteers who helped out in February! If you didn't make it to our Valentines dinner you missed out on Maxie's Beef Burgundy which was absolutely fabulous!! Thank you Maxie! We still need more help, so if you can give a little bit of time that would be great. Volunteers are who keep the club running.

Last month we had issues with our power and we found out that we need a new power box. As of now our first bid was $8,000 dollars and we are looking for two more bids. If anyone knows someone who can help out please let me know.!! Mike Sipes has been looking, but some of the companies are not responding. The repair needs to happen as soon as possible. This is why we need the support of our members so we can pay for the up keep of the club. Also, we would love any donations anyone can give the club. At the bar we do have a donation jar, so any donation will help whether it's your time or monetary! Maifest is just around the corner and we'll need volunteers for that event

We've had a few members who've not been feeling well, so they all need your prayers and well wish's.

All the Best,
President Kerri Clark

“BEHIND THE BAR”

German beer styles. Part 3 - German ales

Wheat Ales: Hefeweizen/Dunkelweizen/Weizenbock When it comes to ales, Germany is most famous for their wheat beers. Hefeweizen is the most common. Hefeweizen translates to "yeast wheat" in German. The beer's cloudy appearance and powerful banana and clove-like aromatics are the direct result of an unusual yeast strain that is essential to producing this classic style. Darker variations are referred to as dunkelweizen ("dark wheat") and stronger versions are called weizenbock (as in, a wheat beer brewed to bock strength). Dunkelweizens take on a caramelly, dark-fruit like flavor that some liken to liquid banana bread, and weizenbocks are like hefeweizens and dunkelweizens on steroids—stronger and more flavorful in every way. All are delicious!

Altbier Altbier is an unusual specialty hailing from Düsseldorf. Its strangeness lies in the fact that it is fermented cooler than most ales with a yeast that operates best just above the temperatures that are usually reserved for lagers. This process allows rich, nutty, bready malt character to shine alongside a firm, spicy, floral hop bitterness. Most are around 5% ABV, but stronger variations exist and may be labeled as "sticke" or "doppelsticke" altbier.

Kölsch This ale also has a strange fermentation process. Fermented a touch warmer than altbier (but still cooler than most other ales), the yeast produce a delicate, mildly fruity flavor profile. This pairs up with a relatively assertive hop profile from those spicy, herbal German hops and a more mellow pale malt presence. It's a nice, easy drinking beer with about 5% ABV. Kölsch is also unusual for the fact that the name is protected within the European Union so that only breweries within the city of Cologne can give their beer the respected Kölsch name.

Berliner Weisse and Gose Berliner weisse is a tart wheat beer that is soured through a fermentation with the bacteria Lactobacillus. This bacteria produces lactic acid—the same acid that gives yogurt and sour cream their signature tang.

Gose is also soured with the aid of Lactobacillus, but has a couple other ingredients that make it quite unusual: coriander and salt. The final product is cloudy, tart, and spicy and it's one of the most refreshing beers you can drink.

This concludes my series on German Beer styles. I hope you enjoyed it. Stay thirsty. Prost!
